

New Volunteer Opportunities at EKFH

Are you passionate about social justice and addressing poverty in our community?

If you have 4 to 8 hours a week to spare during the month of July, we really need your help!

Bridgend Hub Model Project

The needs and voices of our service users are at the heart of every decision we make at EKFH. This short-term, one-off project seeks to consult with some of our service users who live in the vicinity of Bridgend to help us find out their views about some specific changes to the way we provide deliveries in their area.

We are looking to recruit a team of volunteers to call people from our Granton premises.

Full support and training will be provided.

The skills and experience needed for this opportunity are:

- Passionate about social justice
- Great people skills or a desire for more experience interacting with people
- Compassionate approach to working with different types of people
- Willingness to participate in training
- Pleasant phone manner
- Basic IT data entry skills using MS Excel

If you would like to get involved, please contact: jess.martinez@emptykitchens.co.uk for more information.
